- Trudeau spends $4.7 Billion on rescue planes that would take 2 days to reach the Arctic, when Leonardo bid on the same contract for a similar price because their C-27J could make it to the North Pole in one flight, or 13 flight hours. Leonardo is now suing the Trudeau government.
- Trudeau suing Canadian veteran soldiers to prevent them from obtaining benefits by court order that he cut from them.

-Trudeau makes amendments to Immigration Act to make Syrian “refugees” eligible to vote in 2019 AND make changes to contradict Section 46 (1) (c) in Criminal Code of Canada about endangerment to national security which is considered treason and is subject to imprisonment for life, making it null and void in the Immigration Act.

-Justin Trudeau, MPs, Senators' Salaries Go Up Again

-Syrian refugees eligible to vote in 2019, as well as introducing Bill C-6 which amends the Citizenship Act to, among other things, (a) remove the grounds for the revocation of Canadian citizenship that relate to national security; (b) remove the requirement that an applicant intend, if granted citizenship, to continue to reside in Canada; etc.

-Hussen admits immigration increase will cost taxpayers over $1 BILLION per year & keep going up

Canadian taxpayers are already paying over $1 billion per year for the cost of immigration, and Hussen admitted that the Trudeau plan will add to that cost every year.

-This is a tough time to be in the Canadian coal industry. Politicians at both the federal and provincial level are systematically decimating the industry, robbing hardworking Canadians of their livelihoods, all in an effort to virtue-signal on the world stage.

-Justin Trudeau admits that he's giving Muslims special rights while removing rights from non-Muslim Canadians

-UPDATE: The Liberal government has decided to welcome one million immigrants in next three years.

- IQRA KHALID introduced M-103. She became a Member of Parliament. She wasn't born in Canada – rather, she was born in Pakistan. She was ex-president of Muslim Student Association, associated with terrorist organization Muslim Brotherhood. Introduced Bill M-103 to Canada.

-Free speech is supposed to be protected under the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. The Liberal government has placed a motion before Parliament to "quell" Canadians free speech with the M-103 Islamophobia motion....which will act as a stepping stone leading to Sharia law in Canada. The Liberal government does not want anyone speaking out against Islam which is NOT a religion. Islam is a totalitarian political system masquerading as a religion. Liberals want to silence truth telling voices who say Islam demands that all Muslims work to overthrow all nations, all governments and non-Sharia law. There are several Canadian imam's that have recently been filmed spewing these very violent hate filled sermons calling for the death of Jews and infidels. Justin Trudeau and his liberals have been silent on that front. Ask yourself why. Where are the charges against the hatred and violence spewed out by these imams? Why are imams exempt from any charges of hate inciting violence fueled speech? I don't need to remind you that freedom of speech and freedom of thought is essential to a free society. If we are really a free country, we must be free to criticize all ideas and all "religions." M-103 WILL silence ALL our free speech!! Justin Trudeau, and his corrupt Liberals are VIOLATING our Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms!.

The Liberal and NDP parties voted for M-103. The Conservatives who voted against the motion showed the courage to stand up for freedom of speech and the rights of Canadians. They also stood with the vast majority of Canadians who expressed their opposition to M-103 over and over again.

There is a list of names online of who voted for and against M-103 Please look them up: <http://angusreid.org/islamophobia-motion-103/>

Three-in-ten say the motion is 'a threat to Canadians' freedom of speech' and should not be passed March 23, 2017

The Fraser Institute report makes it clear what a fraud these climate plans are, as they will accomplish nothing except making life more expensive and taking more money out of our pockets. <https://www.fraserinstitute.org/>

-In March 2017, Trudeau gave a grant of $750,000 to fund a heritage circuit and statue of former separatist Quebec Premier René Levesque. This grant will not help national unity, but it may give Trudeau some votes in Quebec. Then, to top off the $20 million for the international abortion fund, on March 8, 2017, Trudeau announced a $650 million grant to encourage abortions, etc. in developing countries see: Trudeau's Bizarre Grant for International Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights.

-A new Federal Report Warns Free Trade With China Could “Kill Canadian Businesses & Jobs” The CP notes that, “Among those concerns was that further liberalizing trade could kill Canadian businesses and jobs as companies can't compete because of lax labour standards, lower environmental requirements, and state subsidies in China, the report says. These Canadian groups were adamant that failing to address these issues would only further the hollowing out of the Canadian manufacturing sector.”

--Government increases spending on illegal border crossers while homeless Canadians are dying in Toronto. The government has limited resources, which means the priority must be given to helping Canadians in need, not those who illegally enter our country.

-Disturbing reports that 70 homeless people have died in Toronto so far in 2017, and the increasing government spending on facilities for illegal border crossers. When homeless Canadians are suffering, and many millions more Canadians are struggling in poverty and economic stagnation, it is totally unacceptable for the government to be spending taxpayer money on illegal border crossers

- Trudeau Government Selling Canada's Last Inshore Coastal Survey Ship In Blow To Arctic Sovereignty. As reported in the National Post, “It's absolutely appalling,” said Michael Lamplugh, a retired hydrographer with Canadian Hydrographic Service, who led the team on the Matthew for ten years until 2012. Just the sonar on board is worth more than Canada is asking, he said. And with no replacement, Canada risks not only domestic maritime safety, such as for cruise ships in the Northwest Passage, but also its geopolitical credibility in disputes over sovereignty in the Arctic Ocean.”

- Despite countless taxpayer-funded bailouts sold as keeping Bombardier a strong Canadian company, a European company now has a majority stake in the CSeries program. As a result of a deal first announced Monday evening, the CSeries is no longer Canadian-owned, as a majority stake is now held by Airbus – a European company. Airbus will own 50.01%, Bombardier 31%, and the Quebec government 19%.

This means that the Bombardier CSeries, held up as the key to the future of Canada's aviation industry, is now a European plane.

Deal adds jobs in Alabama, but no new jobs in Canada

- Trudeau's destructive changes to the National Energy Board have dealt a massive blow to Canadian jobs and Canadian energy independence.

TransCanada has announced that the Energy East Pipeline and Eastern Mainline projects have both been terminated. This is terrible news for our country. The $15.7 billion project would have created good jobs for Canadian workers, and would have helped us at least move closer to ending the absurd situation in which much of Eastern Canada imports oil from overseas (including Saudi Arabia), despite our massive oil reserves in Western Canada.

- As Morneau scrambles to salvage his political career from growing scandals, more details are emerging about his potential "Conflict of Ethics."

Global News is reporting that Morneau gets dividend cheques worth at least $65K per month from Morneau-Shepell (MSI).

"Morneau on Thursday said he holds "about a million shares" in Morneau Shepell Inc. (MSI)

Reportedly, the cheques could even have been as big as $150K in some months, and the 6.5% October dividend is just one of 25 dividend payments Morneau has received since taking office totaling over $1.6 million. As noted by Global, "All of this has the opposition parties crying foul because, all the while that Morneau has been receiving dividend cheques from MSI, he's been pushing a bill through Parliament, Bill C-27, that would improve business opportunities for firms like Morneau Shepell. Indeed, MSI is believed to be one of just four firms in the country which will benefit from new pension administration rules if C-27 becomes law."

- During his time in office, Justin Trudeau has shown that the only thing that matters to him is his globalist image, and the financial interests of the wealthy elite. While Trudeau gets headlines around the world, problems in our own country go unresolved, and many are getting even worse.

- Once again, the Trudeau government has shown a willingness to put the interests of China ahead of the interests of Canadians. As reported by the Canadian Press, when MPs were planning a Parliamentary trip to China, Opposition House Leader Candice Bergen left a few details out of her passport. A few days before the trip, Bergen was told that her Visa application was denied, meaning she was left behind.

Interestingly, other MPs on the trip left out similar information, but only Bergen was denied the ability to enter China. Of note, Bergen had already been to China before, and had a special diplomatic passport. Yet, instead of standing up for a fellow Canadian, the Trudeau government did nothing to push back or get her a Visa. (Spencer Fernando)

The government is refusing to say whether Canadians will find out what happens in the investigation into Canadians named in the Paradise Papers – including top Trudeau fundraiser Stephen Bronfman.

-ISIS fighters are coming back to Canada.

It is estimated that 180 people with a nexus to Canada, headed to other countries as foreign fighters, were stopped on the way, or remained there and kept fighting over the past few years. -It's the narrative the Liberals tried to employ this summer to ram through one of the largest personal tax increases in recent history by portraying the stalwarts of the middle class — small business people, farmers, fisherman, shopkeepers and professionals — as rich tax cheats who weren't paying their fair share. (Toronto Sun)

-As doctors, other professionals and small business owners gear up for a tax war with federal Finance Minister Bill Morneau and the Liberals, post-secondary students have quietly — and for most, unknowingly — taken a serious financial hit as well.

Those groups are all angry with the federal government over proposed changes to small business tax rules that could increase the amount of taxes they have to pay. (Toronto Sun)

-Under Justin Trudeau's government, 81% of middle class families are paying higher taxes. That's even before factoring in the ever-rising carbon tax, which takes more and more money out of the pockets of all Canadians, and hurts low income people the most.

-Finance Minister Bill Morneau – a multimillionaire – had to pay for violating the Conflict of Interest Act was $200.

-Bill C-27 would make changes to private pensions in Canada. It was put forth by the Finance Department led by Bill Morneau. Of course, there's a big problem with that: Morneau-Shepell could make a profit from it, since they are a big provider of the private pension plans that could be incentivized under the new legislation.

Today in Question Period, Morneau was asked whether he went to the Ethics Commissioner to recuse himself from anything to with Bill C-27 to avoid any potential conflict – as he once apparently promised he would – or receive written permission from the Ethics Commissioner to be involved in the legislation. Morneau refused to directly answer sidestepping the questions

-Finance Minister Morneau repeatedly fails to say when budget will be balanced. He was asked at least ten times, and didn't answer the actual question once.

-Canadian ranchers are paying 50% duty on frozen beef exports to Japan, something they would not have to face if the Trans-Pacific Partnership was in place. Conservative John Barlow asked the Minister of International Trade when this Liberal Government will sign the TPP

-While Trudeau bows down to communist China, he's distancing our country from democratic allies like Australia. In the wake of Trudeau skipping (or "making a scheduling mistake") a key meeting during Trans-Pacific Partnership negotiations, Australia is seeking to block Canada from a spot on the East Asia Summit which is seen as a top security forum in the region.

As noted in a recent report, “An Australian news report suggests that country’s leadership has already rejected Canada’s application to participate in the key forum because Australian trade officials were “gobsmacked” by Canada’s behaviour on the sidelines of the Asia-Pacific Economic Forum (APEC) last week in Vietnam.” (Spencer Fernando)

-The Liberal Party’s link to the Paradise Papers

At Canadians for Tax Fairness, though, Dennis Howlett paints a very different picture of TIEAs. The organization believes that Canada is losing between $10 billion and $15 billion a year in tax revenue due to tax havens. That estimate includes both tax avoidance, which is legal, and tax evasion, which is illegal.

-More than 3,000 Canadian names in the Paradise Papers. A supermarket giant, an NHL hockey team, several billionaires and a yacht captain. These are just a few of the roughly 3,300 Canadian companies, trusts, foundations ...

-Trudeau's chief fundraiser linked to Cayman Islands tax scheme. A massive leak of data from an offshore law firm has revealed that Stephen Bronfman and his Montreal-based investment company were key players linked to a $60-million ...

And a whopping two-thirds of that money is likely tied to corporations, rather than individuals, said Howlett.

-Another former Liberal Prime Minister seems linked to the Paradise Papers... former Liberal Prime Minister Paul Martin

Liberals tried branding Canadian small businesses as tax cheats and tax-evaders, while their elitist friends and former PM's were moving stuff offshore.

- Trudeau has officially destroyed Canada's energy sector by killing three major pipeline deals that would have created thousands of new jobs

- Trudeau has handed out more than 60 BILLION to foreign governments.

- John Ivison is reporting that Justin Trudeau is planning to head to China in December to begin so-called "free trade" talks with the Communist state.

In fact, a report put together by the federal government showed there were massive concerns about such a deal

"Among those concerns was that further liberalizing trade could kill Canadian businesses and jobs as companies can't compete because of lax labour standards, lower environmental requirements, and state subsidies in China, the report says. These Canadian groups were adamant that failing to address these issues would only further the hollowing out of the Canadian manufacturing sector."

Trudeau plans to ignore all of that. Trudeau is clearly a big fan of China's communist government, and even praised their "basic dictatorship.

- Trudeau "Delays" $2.14 BILLION In Infrastructure Spending

- Canada must reject "free trade" with China. China's state-run economy doesn't play by the same rules as Canada, and we can't trust the global corporate elites to ever look out for Canada's interests. They – along with Trudeau – will eagerly sell out Canadian interests and destroy Canadian industries, all to line their own pockets. Canada must take an approach that puts the interests of our nation and our businesses first, and that means rejecting “free trade” with China. Such a deal would kill jobs, destroy what's left of the manufacturing sector, and severely hurt Canadian workers.

- Canadian Arms Exports To Saudi Arabia Surge Under Trudeau Government

In 2016, Canadian military arms exports to Saudi Arabia rose to $142 million – a 47% increase from the year before. The increase came as Saudi Arabia prosecuted a brutal war in Yemen – which continues to this day and is precipitating one of the worst humanitarian crises in recent history. As pointed out by Tim Naumetz, “A federal report shows the surge in exports from Canadian manufacturers — including munitions described as including “riot control agents” — took place even as the Canadian government was issuing an unusual statement of concern over growing violence in Saudi Arabia. During the period military exports to Saudi Arabia soared, separate data gathered by Industry Canada and Statistics Canada show firearm industry exports of civilian semi-automatic rifles to Saudi Arabia exploded from zero exports in 2015 to $13.5 million worth in 2016.

-Relaxed rules for obtaining Canadian citizenship will take effect on Oct. 11, Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Minister Ahmed Hussen announced Wednesday. Government is reportedly aware of 200 or so total "terrorist travellers," all of whom have faced no criminal consequences. Trudeau seems more concerned with helping ISIS fighters "reintegrate," rather than protecting Canadians. It's a total dereliction of his duty to the Canadian people, and it raises disturbing questions about whether he has any loyalty to our country.

Since Schedule 2 came into force in 2002, federal permission has been given for 27 bodies of fish-bearing waters to be used to dump tailings.

-BROKEN ECONOMY: Nearly Half Of Canadian Workers Living Paycheque To Paycheque.

While the economy may be growing for the elites, more and more Canadians are finding it tougher just to stay afloat. In the wake of the Paradise Papers and revelations about how the elites stash as much wealth as they can overseas, a new survey from the Canadian Payroll Association details the economic struggles facing many Canadians.

Here's a few quotes from Justin Trudeau.

"If you kill your enemies, they win" (Trudeau did not directly say 'If you kill your enemies, they win', but he inferred it.)

"Canada is stronger because of Muslims"

"Diversity is our strength"

Trudeau said he admired China's "basic dictatorship,

"the budget will balance itself"

Christianity Is An Insult To Muslims

small businesses are simply ways for wealthier Canadians to save on their taxes

"The Liberal party believes that terrorists should get to keep their Canadian citizenship...because I do and I'm willing to take on anyone who disagrees with that." (July 2015)

Trudeau said he would support Quebec separatism under certain circumstances and that the country suffers when people from Alberta are in charge.

Trudeau brought up his idea of making Canada a "Post-National" country. Post-nationalism" is another way to push globalism. It seeks to cast nationalism in a negative light, while purposely ignoring the fact that by the very definition of the word, every nation on earth exists due to nationalism. The biggest problem with "post-nationalism": No country without a strong national identity can remain a real country for long. That would leave Canada open to foreign countries and global corporations to extract as much wealth as possible, at the expense of any real future for our country. When Trudeau talks about "post-nationalism," that's the kind of future he envisions, and that's why Canadians must push back against it. Spencer Fernando.

-Trudeau Is The Most Dishonest Prime Minister In Canadian History

Beyond the usual lying and deception employed by many politicians, Trudeau's immense dishonesty is due to his allegiance to a globalist agenda that isn't focused on doing what's best for Canadians.

The danger of globalism We see this in policies that put political virtue-signalling ahead of national security, the needs of global corporations ahead of the working class, and the attempt to destroy patriotism and patriotic values in favour of an empty, meaningless globalism that denies the worth of the nation-state and devalues citizenship.

-Trudeau Government Spending $5 MILLION On Skating Rink Outside Parliament. It will only be open from December 7 to December 31. Ottawa already has an amazing and widely-used rink on the Rideau Canal. The Canal is the world's largest skating rink and it's yards away. There is absolutely no need for another one.

-Trudeau government is planning a huge increase in Canada's immigration levels (340,000 per year by 2020 at a cost of over $1 billion yearly) making it easier to turn Canada into a disturbing "Post-National State", and an economic goal – enriching his corporate buddies and increasing the number of Canadians who will be forced into further dependency on the "generosity" of the state – making the politicians and the bureaucracy even more powerful.

-Algerian Djamel Ameziane has never even held Canadian citizenship, and claims he was mistreated by America after being detained in Afghanistan and sent to Gitmo. Yet, he's only suing Canada. Canada is now being sued by a non-Canadian Algerian national for a whopping $50 million.

-Trudeau's total hypocrisy has been exposed by the Paradise Papers.

Under Justin Trudeau's government, 81% of middle class families are paying higher taxes.

That's even before factoring in the ever-rising carbon tax, which takes more and more money out of the pockets of all Canadians, and hurts low income people the most.

Now, the release of the Paradise Papers – revealing efforts by the global elites (including a top Trudeau fundraiser) to pay less taxes – have fully exposed Trudeau's hypocrisy.

-Trudeau attacks middle class and working class Canadians with higher taxes, while his wealthy elitist buddies get away with paying less.

- Trudeau Government Calls Jihadis "Returning Foreign Terrorist Travellers"

Trudeau government spokesman said Dan Brien (obviously using PMO approved talking points), when asked about Canada's policies on ISIS fighters coming back to the country

"Returning foreign terrorist travellers and their families, specifically women and children, require the appropriate disengagement and reintegration support."

While the "reintegration support," is the most disturbing part, the fact that the government is trying to "rebrand" dangerous Jihadis as "returning foreign terrorist travellers" is absurd.

-Many are starting to think that he wants to run in 2019 against the U.S., and use the failure of NAFTA negotiations as an excuse to sell Canada out to China and his globalist elite buddies. NAFTA would give Trudeau the excuse he's been waiting for in order to "pivot" away from the U.S. and towards China. Trudeau has been clear that he wants Canada to be dominated by China. His approval of China taking over numerous Canadian companies – including companies with serious implications for Canada's national security and the security of our allies – combined with his fawning comments about China's "basic dictatorship," reveals that he would like to make Canada an economic colony of China, rather than a nation that stands on our own two feet.

-TRADE WAR: Increased Imports From China Cost Canada 105,000 Manufacturing Jobs Between 2001-2011

As our trade deficit with China surges, a "free trade" deal with that country would make things even worse.

As the Trudeau government pushes for what would be an economically devastating "free trade" deal with China, a study by Policy Options reveals the massive damage increased trade with China has done to the Canadian manufacturing sector.

According to the study, increased imports from China caused a net loss of 105,000 Canadian manufacturing jobs between 2001 – 2011. During that time, a total of 508,000 manufacturing jobs were lost (as Canada increased trade with other cheap labour countries).

The study also measured total job losses due to increased Chinese imports between 1991 and 2001 as trade with China began ramping up. During that time 64,000 jobs were lost due to increased Chinese imports, bringing the 1991-2011 total to about 170,000 lost manufacturing jobs lost.

-“Free Trade” With China Would Endanger Canada’s National Security
Trudeau is trying to push Canada into a “free trade” deal with China. Such a deal would enrich the elites (bankers, CEOs, and well-connected politicians), while causing severe damage to Canadian workers, the middle class, small businesses, and Canadian industry. Our country is getting sold off piece by piece. We must protect our national security, protect our workers, and protect our country.

-Carbon tax is a scam...It’s about revenue, not the environment.

While big companies get a slap on the wrist for violating pollution laws, the elitist Trudeau government wants to punish all Canadians with a massive new tax which will do nothing to help the environment. Example: Montreal has been lecturing the Canadian oil industry, it turns out his city dumped 8 BILLION LITRES of raw sewage into the Saint Lawrence River. Other big cities make similar raw sewage dumps. Instead of toughening up those punishments, the government is imposing a carbon tax that will damage our economy and rip more money out of our pockets. -

-Trudeau Planning To Suppress Debate As Parliament Returns

As Parliament returns for the fall session, the Trudeau government is seeking to suppress debate.

As reported by HuffPost Canada, the government has given notice that they will use “time allocation” to limit the amount of debate that can take place on government legislation.

This will cut the opposition off from having a real say on what the government is proposing, making it easier for Trudeau to ram through his agenda without much parliamentary scrutiny.

The suppression of debate comes as the Trudeau government is facing growing criticism, particularly over tax changes that will hurt small businesses and could push Canada into a recession. They also face continued anger from millions of Canadians over the $10.5 million payment to Omar Khadr.
